Your visit

Escape the classroom and be transported back to the Stone Age. We have designed a day that will immerse your pupils in a landscape steeped in history and bring the Stone Age to life. We will spark pupils' curiosity by giving them an opportunity to connect with prehistory in a tangible way; testing their stone age life skills, as they become hunter gathers, foragers and shelter builders in our ancient woodlands. Explore genuine artefacts from the Palaeolithic era, when woolly rhino and mammoth roamed the land. To finish the day, your class will learn to light fires - so important to early mans' survival! and create their very own Stone Age cave paintings using inspiration from ancient art. Your class will come away from the day inspired and eager to return to the classroom to learn more!

Learning Outcomes

In addition to immersing themselves in the history of our unique outdoor classroom, pupils will:

- Gain further knowledge of life during the old and new stone age periods in a real world setting. How the development of technology and farming changed our landscape forever.
- Understand how archaeologists use evidence to piece together a picture of the past.
- Learn how their local history fits in with national and international history.

National Curriculum links

Each of our sessions links into the National Curriculum and supports your classroom learning.

Our Sensational Stone Age Day covers:

- Changes in Britain throughout the Stone Age.
- Opportunities for a local history study.
- Support the development of a chronologically secure knowledge and understanding of British, local and world history.
